Describe the arrangements in place during the last financial year for identifying, planning and meeting the training needs of staff employed by the service provider	We induct our staff through training days initially, and have inducti on training that is online. We use the service of Redcrier for the m ajority of the training and are currently sitting at a high percentag e of staff who have accessed and passed all elements of training. The modules will be emailed automatically to staff to refresh. We have had two unannounced Fire evacuation training with staff and will be doing more of this. Mandatory training for First Aid, Mov an d Hand and Fire are booked.
Describe the arrangements in place during the last financial year for the recruitment and retention of staff employed by the service provider	We do not have a high turnover of staff and have only utilised the recruitment services, the likes of Indeed, once in the last financial year. Indeed is an expensive recruitment service though and has not really produced results when we have used it. We recognise, as a service provider, the mental wellbeing of our staff and the se curity regarding their jobs during the cost of living crisis. We offer a free meal for our staff and we have parking facilities, staff also a ble to wash their uniforms.

Statement of Compliance

The Responsible Individual must prepare the statement of compliance.

CIW have published guidance on completing the quality of care review which provides advice on what could be contained within the statement of compliance.

Set out your statement of compliance in respect to the four well-being areas below.

The extent to which people feel their voices are heard, they have choice about their care and support, and opportunities are made available to them.	Our activities personnel regulate meetings with residents. As an RI and at work most of the working week, I regularly converse wi th our residents and their families and also our staff who feedb ack to me. We have our QA's that involve our healthcare profes sionals, relatives and staff. Everything is about choice, our mos t recent poll is where we should go for our excursion out of the home, when the weather heats up. Food choice is also importa nt and often a conversation we regularly visit depending on sea son and the preferences of our residents. We often have to re main vigilant to appreciate some residents mental wellbeing an d those who have dementia may not like a singer coming in, for example, and so arrangements are made so that they are take n care of, should they wish, outside of the entertainment room and are therefore more relaxed and at ease. Each day is differ ent and you have to read the day and appreciate that every on e is different and adjust things accordingly to suit everyone as best you can and give them the options of participation and mai ntain respect by gaining consent and asking for their opinion. I regularly carry out maintenance of the home and so part of my day is explaining to the resident involved (if repair is required in room) having a general chat, updating them with what I am doin g and to keep them involved. With our recent Covid boosters, w e explained the week before to all residents that the GP would be attending, explained what for and also reiterated this news o n the day of visit so that it was not a surprise. We gained conse nt of all of our residents and with a little bit of adjustment in their day, they were all ready and waiting and understood, at the ti me, what they were having done and why. A small percentage would not be able to retain that information and so families are often involved and are able to discuss with their person their varying levels of support of changes that we may need to carry out , such as continence aids or medication adjustments.
The extent to which people are happy and supported to maintain their ongoing health, development and overall wellbeing. For children, this will also include intellectual, social and behavioural development.	Our goal is to maintain the independence of our residents with what they are comfortable in carrying out themselves. This coul d be personal care or their mobility, they all know that we are o n hand to help, but if they can keep their legs and movement g oing, then things will remain a little bit more encouraging in their mobility and wellbeing than if they do not use them. We have T ai Chi and Chair Movement exercises performed and these are quite relaxing activities that many participate in, if they wish. We are pro active with those who may start to struggle and enlist th e professionalism of our OT team to come in and assess our re sidents for any aid that may be more beneficial. Some of our re sidents come in fully mobile and we may need to make an adjus tment later down the line for the use of a stick, for example, and then this may progress to a walking frame. It does not deter our individuals from using their own initiative then in toileting or wan ting to go to their room, they are just that bit safer in doing so. We have the nursery children come in from Meadowbank every other Thursday, bridging the link between young and older peo ple and this has been a thorough success that everyone misse d during the heightened period of the pandemic. Our staff are a II trained and we retain staff very well which we very much appr eciate. Residents will often open up to the staff that they see every day and build up a rapport with and trust to go forward with any medical issues or concerns with their wellbeing. We have g ood working relationships with our great district nursing team a nd our GP surgeries which is a great help to us as a residential care home to have that support. We have had the privilege of h aving taken receipt of new beds in all of the rooms, which are m uch more modern and can only be of benefit to those we look a fter and our staff in order to reduce risk, maintain independence, protect backs, and the general comfort of all of our residents as they are beds that are able to be moved electron

The extent to which people feel safe and protected from abuse and neglect.	All staff are currently trained in identifying any signs of abuse. We speak to all individuals to ascertain as to whether they feel safe in their environment if they have any issues regarding thei r safety. We have zero tolerance for any kind of untoward beha vior. We have a whistle blowing policy, we provide body maps where it is documented if an individual should have a red area caused by their mobility equipment. New Individuals also have a body m apped on admission
The extent to which people live in accommodation that best supports their wellbeing and achievement of their personal outcomes.	All individuals complete a This is Me booklet where we can asce rtain their likes and dislikes their social engagements and how t hey wish to spend their day. We endeavor to work in a person c entered way and all staff carry this through in their daily workin g environment. It is of paramount importance that everyone is seen as an indivi dual and that we maintain a homely environment for every one as an Individual.
