The Responsible Individual must prepare the statement of compliance.

CIW have published guidance on completing the quality of care review which provides advice on what could be contained within the statement of compliance.

Set out your statement of compliance in respect to the four well-being areas below.

The extent to which people feel their voices are heard, they have choice about their care and support, and opportunities are made available to them.	All people who use the service have an individual care plan for each area of need identified and agreed for care and support. people are able to consent to their care plans, and where they have been assessed as 'lacking the mental capacity' to make decisions about their care and support, their relative who representative is asked to review the care plans and consent to them. people who use the service have been provided with the updated 'Statement of Purpose' which provides them with information about how they can make a complaint about their care and support service. Additionally, people have access to up-to-date information about safeguarding and what to do should they have concerns about their safety and welfare. An annual user satisfaction survey is about to get underway with the purpose to seek the views of those who use the service as well as their families and other stakeholders involved in their care and support. The manager and responsible individual have visited a sample of the [people who use the service to discuss any concerns they may have and also to check that they are satisfied with the service they are receiving.
The extent to which people are happy and supported to maintain their ongoing health, development and overall wellbeing. For children, this will also include intellectual, social and behavioural development.	The service is not only responsive to changes in health needs but it works proactively to identify and support people who use the service to access relevant health and support services in their community. The service also works collaboratively with NHS colleagues to ensure people are receiving the care and support they need in relation to maintaining their health. Where there are concerns regarding self-neglect, these have been raised with Adult Safeguarding at the local authority, and the service has engaged positively in the strategy meetings called by the local authority to review these cases.
The extent to which people feel safe and protected from abuse and neglect.	The 'Safeguarding Adults Policy and Procedure' has been rewritten to ensure it thoroughly reflects legislation and best practice guidance in safeguarding adults at risk. Following the update to the policy, all staff who in the service received a half-day briefing on the policy as well as the relevant contact details of Gwent safeguarding and Adult safeguarding at the local authority. Staff and people who use the service also have access to the contact details of the Public Ombudsman as well as Care Inspectorate Wales.
