Statement of Compliance

The Responsible Individual must prepare the statement of compliance.

CIW have published guidance on completing the quality of care review which provides advice on what could be contained within the statement of compliance.

Set out your statement of compliance in respect to the four well-being areas below.

The extent to which people feel their voices are heard, they have choice about their care and support, and opportunities are made available to them.	As an organisation we provide very little direct personal care. O ur aim is to provide support with well-being and general day to day tasks that are often not picked up by other agencies. We provide a voice for people who need help and support, ofte n making and supporting them with referrals to other profession als such as social services. We offer people a choice in what care they would like to receive and balance this with what is available and through what means . We try to offer a range of options to help support the person i n their wishes. When asked 94% of respondents said they felt their voices wer e heard.
The extent to which people are happy and supported to maintain their ongoing health, development and overall wellbeing. For children, this will also include intellectual, social and behavioural development.	The whole purpose of our service is preventative and to promot e independence. We are here to support people to maintain a healthy and active as possible lifestyle to remain as independe nt as possible for as long as possible. We offer mental well-being support and provide a more holistic approach rather than just personal care.

The extent to which people feel safe and protected from abuse	All or members felt safe and protected from abuse.
and neglect.	If there are any issues regarding safeguarding all the team are well trained and briefed and know the procedures to follow.
