Set out your statement of compliance in respect to the four well-being areas below.

The extent to which people feel their voices are heard, they have choice about their care and support, and opportunities are made available to them.	Nearly all the residents (or their representatives) who responde d to the March feedback questionnaires felt they were able to m ake choices and have a say in their day-to-day life at the home. (A large number of responses were received.) The Regulation 73 visits, Regulation 80 reports and other internal monitoring s uggest that there is a good level of engagement and choice. O ur policies and procedures around choice, engagement and ca re planning are regularly reviewed and updated.
The extent to which people are happy and supported to maintain their ongoing health, development and overall wellbeing. For children, this will also include intellectual, social and behavioural development.	Nearly all the residents (or their representatives) who responde d to the March feedback questionnaires felt that the home was t he best home for them, in terms of supporting their needs. This matches the RI's findings in the Regulation 73 visits, Regulation 80 reports and other internal monitoring. Our policies and proc edures around health and wellbeing are regularly reviewed and updated. The home's Facebook page and newsletter evidence s the residents' happiness and the support they receive.
The extent to which people feel safe and protected from abuse and neglect.	Nearly all the residents (or their representatives) who responde d to the March feedback questionnaires: - felt they were safe. well looked-after and protected from abus e and neglect, and - said they were happy and felt supported to maintain their heal th and wellbeing. This matches the RI's findings from the Regulation 73 visits, the Regulation 80 reports and other internal monitoring. Our policie s and procedures around safeguarding are regularly reviewed and updated, including in relation to safe and effective recruitm ent, training, supervision and staff competence and discipline.
The extent to which people live in accommodation that best supports their wellbeing and achievement of their personal outcomes.	Nearly all residents (or their representatives) who responded to the March feedback questionnaires felt that the home's environ ment, facilities, food and activities were appropriate, and most s aid they had the opportunity to engage in enjoyable activities re gularly. This matches the RI's findings from the Regulation 73 vi sits, the Regulation 80 reports and other internal monitoring. W e engage regularly and transparently with commissioners to en sure that our service meets the needs of current and future resi dents. The home's Facebook and newsletter also demonstrates the quality of support provided.
