Statement of Compliance

The Responsible Individual must prepare the statement of compliance.

CIW have published guidance on completing the quality of care review which provides advice on what could be contained within the statement of compliance.

Set out your statement of compliance in respect to the four well-being areas below.

The extent to which people feel their voices are heard, they have choice about their care and support, and opportunities are made available to them.	In order to provide the best possible service to each individual r esident we introduced a Quality Assurance Framework, a set of processes to measure the quality of service delivered and to re view and monitor individual experiences within the home. The r esidents are at the very heart of this process, their views being of paramount importance. The initial review of individual care plans and risk assessments is followed by regular evaluations which include involving reside nts in meetings with staff members and other health profession als to ensure that they are engaged and involved in their own c are. Residents meetings are held regularly and individual questionn aires are also distributed with specific questions in order to gain their views on different aspects of their lives within the care ho me from decision making, the environment, food/drink choices and the availability of daily activities. By evaluating all the information we are able to review, plan, set new objectives and implement necessary changes all with the vi ews of the residents in mind. Through a continual monitoring pr ocess, in conjunction with the resident, we are able to assess all the impacts of change intentional or unintentional and to det
	I the impacts of change, intentional or unintentional, and to det ermine whether the intended objectives have been met.

The extent to which people are happy and supported to maintain their ongoing health, development and overall wellbeing. For children, this will also include intellectual, social and behavioural development.	Our staff support residents to maintain autonomy over their ow n lives where possible as this is essential to their wellbeing. The initial assessments provide information in regards to independent living skills with equipment being made available to ensure that they can continue to maintain these skills for as long as practically possible. The assessment also identifies in ndividual choices such as specific food likes/dislikes, dress and favourite activities which will be made available to ensure contin- uity through the transition from their previous home as maintain ing a routine is greatly beneficial to maintaining independence particularly to residents with dementia. Staff will also support re- sidents to continue with commitments that are important to them , for example, being able to participate in religious services or r egular visits from family members.
The extent to which people feel safe and protected from abuse and neglect.	Our residents have the right to live in safety, free from harm, at use and neglect and we all - our staff, our residents, their famili es and visitors to the home - have a vital role to play in safegua rding. We ensure that everyone is supported to be vigilant and report any concerns of abuse or neglect. Information is provide d in accessible ways so that individuals can understand the diff erent types of abuse, how to stay safe and how to raise concer ns in regard to the safety and/or well-being of a resident. We h ave fully trained designated safeguarding staff members with th e relevant skills and competencies to ensure the safety and pro- tection of all individuals at the home. Staff are thoroughly vetted prior to employment, receive trainin g in Safeguarding and are monitored to ensure they are confid ent in identifying and reporting any forms of abuse or neglect. We promote well being and safeguard individuals in a way that supports them to make choices and having control over their o wn lives without fear. Residents can feel confident that we will s op abuse wherever possible but, should any instance be report ed, we will address the cause and take action against those responsible. We will also learn lessons from the occurrence and in plement changes to prevent similar situations happening in the future.
The extent to which people live in accommodation that best supports their wellbeing and achievement of their personal outcomes.	A redecoration schedule is in place at the home with residents given a choice in the colour schemes for their rooms. Personal belongings can be brought into the home and included in resid ents individual rooms to make them feel more like home. Suggestions from residents are taken into account when improv- ements are made to enhance the living environment, whilst ensuring that all safety regulations ar e adhered to and the highest quality standards are attained.

Statement of Compliance

The Responsible Individual must prepare the statement of compliance.

CIW have published guidance on completing the quality of care review which provides advice on what could be contained within the statement of compliance.

Set out your statement of compliance in respect to the four well-being areas below.

The extent to which people feel their voices are heard, they have choice about their care and support, and opportunities are made available to them.	Spectrum strive to ensure strong relationships are built betwee n the person being supported, their family, representatives and care staff, as evidence suggests that good care and support st ems from strong relationships. The challenge is to how to apply skills, training and knowledge to support older and disabled pe ople and those with mental health issues without taking over th eir lives and reducing their autonomy. A shared vision is neede d so that it places the individuals needs at the centre, whatever the setting so that all individuals in receipt of care can say that t hey have choice and control, they can live the life they want an d is supported in doing so, that they feel safe and supported by competent care staff and that they are supported to gain the inf ormation and advice to stay healthy and independent. This is a chieved through involving the individual, their families' represen tatives and any other professional that might be involved with th e individual in setting up the package of care, working to their w ants and needs, we also welcome positive and negative feedba ck through regular reviews and questionnaires. Following the in itial assessment we arrange to meet after six weeks to see if ev erything is working well, to identify if agreed outcomes are bein g met and if there are aspects of the care provision that might n ot be working. We ensure all information, including our stateme nt of purpose and all contact information is accessible to the in dividual in their preferred format. We also support individuals b y signposting and providing information for accessing outside s ervices and support. We respond and act on any queries and c oncerns an individual may raise and keep them updated during investigation process to ensure the individual is confident that t hey are being heard and treated with respect. We asked during the last Quality review if individuals would like to comment on th eir overall experience, please read the following, 'The staff are amazing' 'All the girls and company are

It is essential to a pers ons well-being and dignity that they are seen as individuals with experiences, aspirations and opinions. Every individual should f eel valued and be offered opportunities and support to express themselves. Life is not without risk and as care workers we sup port individuals with taking opportunities, expressing themselve s, with feeling in control with a purpose and sense of belonging. Individuals we support are empowered to reach their full potenti al when taking risks that are agreed, monitored, and reviewed. Spectrum believe that continuity of care is vital for individuals to feel comfortable and confident with discussing any concerns th ey might have, and continuity of care can identify any changes i n how the individual usually is to any signs or symptoms of new conditions. Staff receive full training to provide them with the to ols to support individuals effectively and appropriately, they are monitored and supported in the community and competency-ba sed assessments are carried out when working with individuals. Staff receive regular supervisions whereby we work through pol icies and procedures; we also incorporate outcomes to ensure our staff are aware that the support being provided is measure d on how effective we work to achieve positive outcomes and ex- periences for the individual. We often need to involve other pro fessionals to support with daily living and overall health and well being such as GP, Occupational Therapy, Sensory Team, Spe ech and Language therapy, Community Nurses, Community Me ntal Health Team, Housing. Managers at Spectrum are all comp etent with making referrals in support of people who use our se rvices.
The extent to which people feel safe and protected from abuse and neglect.	Spectrum have systems in place to support and protect individuals who use services from abuse and neglect. Spectrum have designated managers in place to support with the safeguarding of vulnerable adults who also make referrals to other profession nals when needed. When we identify that an individual is subject to any form of mistreatment, we ensure we have the information needed to abuse and we have identified these cases when working in the community. Families are often unaware of their own stress or behaviours when caring for relatives which can have a maj or impact on both. With the right approach and the appropriate community support services we have found that effective and p ositive outcomes can be achieved. We support, encourage, and empower individuals through available community links such as Age UK or Senior Centres to participate in programs, meet with other likeminded people or engage in activities. This supports with the harmful effects of ageism, biases against stereotypes about aging that keep us from fully participating as we grow older. Spectrum promote inclusion dignity and respect for all individuals and included in our Quality review questionnaires we asked if people would consider being involved with our recruitment either by sitting in on our recruitment panel or mayb e suggesting something they thought would help with the interview questions. The elderly have many life skills and experiences which should be shared and valued. The feedback we received this time was very positive in that some people stated they would like to be involved. Some of the comments as follows, 'yes I would be eager to and offer my opinion' 'Yes definitely' All staff are trained, monitored, and supported to be open and transparent in the way they work, record and report. Staff must be well train ed, supervised and supported to ensure people they care for fer el safe from the service they receive. Spectrum staff are trained, comported to a senior manager, for them to act efficitively and in a timely manner.

	in the way they work, record and report. Staff must be well train ed, supervised and supported to ensure people they care for fe el safe from the service they receive. Spectrum staff are trained , competent and confident when identifying potential abuse, har m or neglect and report to a senior manager, for them to act eff ectively and in a timely manner.
