Statement of Compliance

The Responsible Individual must prepare the statement of compliance.

CIW have published guidance on completing the quality of care review which provides advice on what could be contained within the statement of compliance.

Set out your statement of compliance in respect to the four well-being areas below.

The extent to which people feel their voices are heard, they have choice about their care and support, and opportunities are made available to them.

In line with Company's Governance Policy all those who are usi ng the service are encouraged to be involved and make their v oices heard. This is supported by surveys, group and individual meetings gaining their input into how the home is run.

All our ladies and gentlemen have individualised care plans an d they are involved in developing these plans to express their w ishes, choices, and opportunities that they would like offered. T hese are reviewed monthly.

Staff are met with bimonthly for supervision meetings where the y are encouraged to be involved in changes in the safe running of the home and yearly appraisals. Staff undertake training to s upport them with underpinning knowledge to deliver a high stan dard of care and are aware of the whistle blowing policy to ensure safety is maintained.

Management walks the home daily and takes the opportunity to speak to residents, staff, and visitors and an open-door policy is in place for access to the management team. Quality and Compliance Manager undertakes audits to ensure individuals needs are being met. Key Point Indicators are completed monthly to monitor effectiveness of the service and to highlight any areas of concern.

Responses are evaluated and actions implemented to respond to their choices. Several comments are how the home cared for the whole family.

- We just wanted to say thank you to all their team. As a family we were touched by your level of care and thoughtfulness you showed both professionally and personally we couldn't have wis hed for more.
- · We knew she was never alone and was loved by you all.
- My mother and the family were looked after with a lot of respect and bags of care and love.

There were some concerns over staffing levels and the home r eassured that dependency levels are monitored using the asse ssment tool and staff increased when the need arises.

It has always been the ethos of Swn y Mor that people are enco uraged to continuing living life to the full and taking risks to ena ble them to continue to do so. We have a varied activity progra mme supported by 2 designated activities organisers which has seen them enjoying swimming in the sea, day trips for sightseeing, shopping, meals out and in house events such as accessing the area, barbecues and families are encouraged to be actively involved.

The extent to which people are happy and supported to maintain their ongoing health, development and overall wellbeing. For children, this will also include intellectual, social and behavioural development.

Our residents health and wellbeing is monitored closely. We wo rk closely with local agencies to promote health and well being. Our servioce users are seen regularly by an optician and a den tist

To prevent hospital admissions we recieve support from a local team of staff based at our local hospital Our nursing staff work closely with the Acute Clinical Team to prevent hospital admissi on if the resident chooses to be treated at the home.

Our local GP's and palliative care team work with us in providin g end of life care at the home should a resident chose to spend their last days with us, to support relatives during this difficult ti me we are able to offer them a room where they can rest or sta y over night if needed. We provide relatives with a "Cwtch Bask et" which contains a kettle, tea/coffee, biscuits, toothbrush/toot hpaste, snacks, tissues, wetwipes, to support them during their stay with their loved one.

The extent to which people feel safe and protected from abuse and neglect.

The policy of the home states that we will not tolerate any form of abuse to residents or staff. To raise awareness for prospecti ve residents and families we have introduced an easy read "Ke eping Safe From Abuse" booklet. This will provide them with the knowledge they need to talk to us about any concerns. To supp ort this we ensure that all staff during induction receive training in safeguarding and whistleblowing. This area is always on the staff supervision agenda and they are reminded of the importance and given the opportunity to discuss any concerns they may have.

We work closely with our safeguarding team and discuss any concerns that we may have and submit referrals in a timely man ner when needed. The home aims to be open and transparent at all times.

The manager undertakes monthly audits which can highlight co ncerns regarding weight loss, pressure damage, infection control. Any concerns found are raised under the safeguarding process.

The manager undertakes a daily walk around of the home which higives her the opportunity to speak to residents, relatives and staff, there is also an open door policy at the home where the manager will aim to meet with residents and families to discuss any concerns they may have.

The extent to which people live in accommodation that best supports their wellbeing and achievement of their personal outcomes.

The ethos of the home support residents to live an active life as they wish and enable them to take risks.

On admission residents are encouraged to share with us how t hey would like to spend their daily life, this considers preferenc es and past life. We discuss wishes that they have and support them to achieve their goals. They can set their times for getting up/going to bed/meals.

We recognise that risks are involved in all activities, and we sup port residents to understand and take these risks and minimise the hazards.

Our activities organisers plan monthly activities taking into cons ideration all residents past interests, hobbies and recognise sig nificant dates to arrange celebration.

Residents have their own bedrooms and are supported to deco rate it to their preference.

We have open visiting at Swn-y-Mor however we aim to protect our mealtimes and ask that visitors support us by visiting outsid e these times where possible, and pets are allowed to visit.
