Summary of this policy

When we inspect a regulated service, we have a duty to prepare a written report of our findings and make this report available. This policy sets out the arrangements by which we make inspection reports available. The relevant legislation is listed at the end of this policy.

Why we publish inspection reports

We publish inspection reports in order to make our inspection findings available to people who wish to know about a given service, including the provider(s) of that service. Where our findings include a rating of quality of the service, we publish the rating as part of the report.

Inspection reports on our website

For most of the service types we regulate, we publish inspection reports to our website in the form of a summary of our findings (including ratings, where applicable), with a full version of the report attached in the form of a printable PDF document. The two most recent reports on a given service or provider are displayed on the website, and earlier reports are sometimes available on request.

Reports on child minders, care homes for children residential special schools, secure accommodation services and residential family centres do not include addresses.

When reporting on care homes for children, secure accommodation services and residential family centres we issue the report directly to the responsible individual and/or registered provider rather than publishing to the website. Should you require a copy of a non-published inspection reports you can submit a request to CIW for consideration.

Making inspection reports accessible

For most types of service that we regulate, we:

- email electronic copies of the final unpublished version of the report directly to designated individuals connected with the service
- publish the final version of the report to our website
- supply hard-copy versions to those for whom electronic access is not an option.

All our reports are available in English however from 30 March 2016, in line with Standard 40 of the Welsh Language Standards (No.1) Regulations 2015, Care Inspectorate Wales are exempt from having to publish all regulatory inspection reports in Welsh. We will publish these reports bilingually in the following circumstances:

- For services who operate in Welsh or bilingually.
- Where we have ascertained that this would reflect the language preference of the service. We will confirm the language of choice of a service at the point of registration and check via the annual data collection exercise.
- When the report pertains to a particular care setting where the majority of its customers are Welsh speakers and Inspectors feel that service users or families may want a Welsh language report.
- The public can make a reasonable and proportionate request for any of Care Inspectorate Wales inspection reports in Welsh. For such requests Care Inspectorate Wales will consider whether the subject matter or anticipated audience suggests that the report should be made available in Welsh, in accordance with Standard 47 of the Welsh Language Standards (No.1) Regulations 2015.

Requests from the public should be sent to the Care Inspectorate Wales mailbox \(mailto:ciw@gov.wales\).

Timeline for publishing inspection reports

In general, we expect to issue a report within 25 working days of the last inspection activity. The 'last inspection activity' could be the inspection visit itself, or follow-up telephone calls to relatives or professionals, or reviewing questionnaires.

Upon receipt, the Registered Person, Responsible Individual or relevant person will have 10 working days to request a review of the report, and its ratings, specifically relating to:

- factual accuracy (such as typographical, spelling or numerical errors) or
- completeness of evidence

Under normal circumstances, the report is then published, though publication may be postponed if issues of accuracy need to be resolved.

Our Policy on Requesting a review of evidence and findings of inspections reports (including ratings), which is available on our website, gives more detail on how providers can respond to us about the content of an inspection report, and how we handle such responses.

We do not publish personal information unless legally required to.
